Llibertat Arrencada — Ripped Out Freedom

Material for the installation:

- Catalan monolingual dictionary.
- Noticeboard display with lock and key.
- Staples.

About the Installation:

The page from the Catalan language dictionary containing the definition of the word Freedom (Llibertat) has been ripped out, harshly stapled and locked in a noticeboard display that has no longer a functional key.

Born in Barcelona, 1978.

Living and working in Sweden since 2012.

I am a storyteller.

In my personal life it is important to have space to write short stories, poetry, practice free writing and read.

My background in linguistics has definitely affected my artistic approach: through writing, performance and installation I explain stories that I find in ordinary life. I choose simple, everyday materials to address themes such as absence and lack of communication.
